

MCLUNG'S WOKEN TO WEST VIRGINIA

Will Stand Trial With Father and Brother for Murder of His Uncle.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Greensboro, N. C., September 6.—Today Tolle McClung, who for some time has been a teacher in the Greensboro Commercial School, and who was arrested here Monday on complaint of West Virginia officials, is on his way back to his native State, in charge of an officer, to stand trial with his father and brother for the murder of his uncle, Deputy Sheriff Henderson, of Nicholas County, who was killed by a train here on a late train yesterday.

While here Deputy Sheriff Henderson told something of the crime for which young McClung and his relatives will be tried. On the late Tuesday in August, Henderson, who was a deputy sheriff in his county, was called to the home of the latter's father to serve T. McClung, who was then a parental home on a vacation. The officer, however, was shot and killed by the McClung family. The body was badly shot and mutilated. The McClung family, who were in the direction of the place where the crime was committed, fled in a panic. A new Winchester rifle, shells found at the scene of the shooting were taken and compared with those of the defendants and were found to correspond.

Bad feeling had existed between the two brothers and their families for several years. Both had been in court. His brother, who is charged with the crime, had been on his bond a number of times, but recently had declined to be his brother's bail. This had intensified the feeling.

Young Tolle McClung has lived here several months and has been educated by his associates and who attended the school, in which he and two other boys were in the same class. The brothers are twins, and have had the commercial school in charge for a long time.

The committee in charge of registration for the "Better Babies Contest" held in connection with the Central Carolina Fair here this week, report more than 350 registrations in the contest, and the suburban mill villages. There will be many others from the county and the city of High Point, and the number in the preliminary examination anywhere from 100 to 150. This number will be greatly reduced by selection and elimination, so that a moderate number will be placed on exhibit at the fair.

The first will be divided into two classes, one for two years of age, and the second for two to three years of age. Prizes will be offered in both grades, and a competent committee will serve as judges at the fair. Mothers are taking great interest in the contest, which is evidenced by the number of babies enrolled.

MISS COWAN RE-ELECTED.

President of Turner Ashby Chapter, U. D. C. for Eleventh Consecutive Time.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Harrisonburg, Va., September 6.—For the eleventh consecutive time Miss Alice Cowan was elected president of the Turner Ashby Chapter, Daughters of the Confederacy, at the annual meeting of the chapter, which was held at the Harrisonburg Hotel here today. She drew her name from the list of candidates and absented herself from the hall, but nevertheless she was re-elected without opposition. Miss Cowan is second vice-president of the Virginia Division of the Daughters of the Confederacy. Other officers of the local chapter are Mrs. John B. Peale, first vice-president; Mrs. L. J. Golden, second vice-president; Miss Mary Harris, third vice-president; Miss Mary C. Brock, recording secretary; Mrs. O. P. Brock, treasurer; Mrs. Herbert C. Coffman, corresponding secretary; Miss Virginia Converse, historian.

The local chapter is named in honor of General Turner Ashby, the gallant Confederate chieftain, who was killed in battle near town of Berryville, Va., in 1862. The women make a pilgrimage to the monument that marks the spot where Ashby fell.

Relief for Catarrh

Sufferers Now FREE

You Can Now Treat This Trouble in Your Own Home and Get Relief at Once.

How the Remedy for Catarrh Was Discovered.

By the new method the nose is treated by an effective local remedy, and the mucous membrane of the body and throat is treated by a direct influence on the cause.

Careful experiments and investigations have shown that as the troubles were expelled from the nose and throat, the real cause of the disease was overlooked and in a short time the Catarrh would return stronger than ever. Mr. Gauss has gone way ahead of the ordinary methods of treatment and has provided a remedy that and immediately gives relief to the nose and throat.

Kills the Germs in the Blood

He perfected the New Combined Treatment, since admitted to be the logical, safe, scientific method.

Reese Jones, of Scranton, Penn., says that after trying many other treatments, he used the new method and his nose is now entirely clear and free and is no longer bothered by the disease any more. The New Combined Treatment is worth its weight in gold.

Temporary relief from catarrh may be obtained in other ways, but the New Combined Treatment must inevitably be accepted for permanent results.

Sarah J. Cape, Mount Pella, Tenn., says, "I suffered the pains and distress of catarrh for thirteen years and needless to state, tried every remedy. But by your new method I was completely cured and you cannot imagine the joy that has come over me."

A large trial treatment, with complete, minute directions, will be sent free to any catarrh sufferer. Send no money, take no risks, make no promises. Simply clip, sign and mail the coupon and the test package of the New Combined Treatment will be sent fully prepaid, together with the little book on Catarrh.

Send the Test Treatment FREE

If your New Combined Treatment will relieve your Catarrh and bring you health and good spirits again, I am willing to be shown, so without cost or obligation to me, send fully prepaid the Treatment and Book.

Called Home by Father's Illness.

J. J. R. McCauley, secretary and treasurer of the Medical College of Virginia, was called to Union Ridge, N. C., late last night by a message announcing the critical illness of his father, L. H. McCauley, who is seventy-five years old. Mr. McCauley was in the midst of the work of matriculating students at the college, 125 new men having already been enrolled.

Arranged in alphabetical order were the names of the agents of the organization in the various cities. The police say, and instructions were given to the men who made the restaurant his headquarters, and who is known to have been acquainted with the man who was the night of the murder. The police found scores of lives, and speaking of this man from twelve white girls.

Further investigation disclosed records of the man who had been in the opium. This evidence was called to the attention of the Federal officers, who were told that the man who had been in the opium and smuggling of the border were the main purpose of the organization, carrying with them the necessary help for fugitive members to escape.

MOTHER ABANDONS BABY.

Leaves Infant on Train, but Later It Is Returned to Her.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Salisbury, N. C., September 6.—A young woman, apparently about twenty-five years of age, and giving her name as Mary Little, who was on a southbound train No. 7 at Richmond yesterday, carrying a babe three months old, left the train and hid the child at Salisbury. After the train left here the conductor wired back to the station and the woman was soon located, still in the waiting room, while the babe slept on a seat in the train. The woman and child were returned, and through the officers here was returned to the mother, who admitted it was her child and that at first denied she had left it in the train. No reason was assigned for the abandonment of the child.

The mother and child were later placed on a train and sent to Concord, where she said she lived.

WOMAN'S CLOTHES SET Afire, and Neighbors Save Her From Death.

It was not a lamp that exploded last night in the kitchen at the home of Fred Harvill, colored, on Harding Street, but the gas from a very volatile preparation that had been liberally spread on the floor to drive away water bugs. The gas had filled the room, and when Sarah Harvill, the wife of Fred, entered with a light there was an instant explosion, the force of which blew out one side of the kitchen. The woman's clothes were set afire, and she was only saved from death by her husband and neighbors, who rushed to her rescue. The woman was terribly burned about the breast, arms, back and head, and her husband was badly burned about the hands in saving her.

COMPLAINTS AGAINST AUTOS.

Residents Along Petersburg-Richmond Turnpike Up in Arms.

Residents along the Petersburg-Richmond Turnpike are loud in their complaints against the speed of the automobiles that are run on that road and the damage that is done to the road in consequence. An appeal is to be made to the authorities to limit the speed to ten miles an hour. Some of the residents declare they will not contribute another cent to the improvement of the road as long as the autos are permitted to run at any high speed the owners choose.

Chinese Society for Evading Law and Helping Criminals Has Long Reach.

Chicago, Ill., September 6.—Discovery of an "underground railway" for the spiriting away of Chinese fugitives from justice and to aid the entrance of Orientals into this country was reported to-day by detectives at work on the murder of Charles Sing, a Chinese merchant. The alleged conspiracy extends from British Columbia to Hong Kong, and has branches in many cities of this country, and at least one in Mexico.

Secrets of the "underground" were discovered in a raid on rooms at the rear of a chop suey restaurant in North Clark Street, near West Illinois Street. The principal haul was what the police call the "black book" of the gang, from which the alleged scheme in aid of fugitives was operating.

Arranged in alphabetical order were the names of the agents of the organization in the various cities. The police say, and instructions were given to the men who made the restaurant his headquarters, and who is known to have been acquainted with the man who was the night of the murder.
